

Remembrance day

An English soldier, grows not old,
The flame still lights in his eyes.
Although his body lays to rest,
His flag forever flies.

On the green and gold horizons,
Poppies sweep and sway.
They fly amongst the gardens,
And classrooms of today.

Over ocean streams and backyard dreams,
Above the sunburnt plain,
Through harvest yields and sporting fields.
In rainbows after rain.

It defines a life worth living,
And a day that must be won.
For every father's daughter,
And every mother's son.

But more than that, the honor claimed,
In fighting for the free.
The true heart of that English soldier,
Still beats in you and me.

When the night is dark and dangerous,
With the rumble of the storm.
We will not forget their sacrifice,
The strength of their endeavour. (en-dev-er).
For the choices we are gifted with,
That flame will burn forever.

With a smile that lights the future,
Shining brightly in our scope.
We will stand as one, together -

We will carry on the hope.

But as we go we take the words that rightfully belong,
'I am young and I am worthy. I am brave and I am strong.
In the face of any challenge I will strive to rise above,
I deserve this opportunity to live, to learn to love.
I can truly make a difference,
My path is up to me and this is my commitment -
Be the best that I can be.'
